"THE SHEPHERD OF THE HILLS."

Harold Bell Wright, the most popular American novelist, with the assistance of Elsbeth W. Reynolds, has dramatized his most widely read novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills." The second local presentation of this dramatization will take place at the Colonial on Friday, November 3rd. It is a heart-stirring and a wholesome story and one that breathes the simple life of the mountains and the pasture, but yet sets forth human passions, ambitious endeavors, failures and successes. A story that should be even greater as a drama than as a novel.

TOOK A HAND IN THE GAME.

A number of British recruits at Sandhurst thought they would have a little fun with the drill sergeant. They made their plan, and on the following morning when the sergeant gave the order, "Number off from the right," they did so in this manner: "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, knave, queen king." Quick as a flash the sergeant came back: "All court cards fall out and report to the major."

ADORABLE MARGUERITE CLARK AT THE QUEEN TOMORROW.

"Come in, dear, and meet your future husband." If you were a little girl suddenly taken out of school and your father thus summoned you into his library, wouldn't your knees fairly creak with fright and wouldn't you feel like turning and running as fast as you could? And if the man to whom you were introduced as your future husband leered at you in a terrifying way wouldn't you wish that some good fairy would show you the way to escape from this man.

That is the situation which confronts "Little Lady Eileen" in the Famous Players production in which irresistible Marguerite Clark is being starred at the Queen tomorrow. But Eileen, who is a slip of an Irish lassie, believes implicitly in fairies and though she is terrified at George Churchill and hates him instinctively, she hopes in the bottom of her heart that the fairies will come to her rescue before it is too late. When she was in school she continually harassed the principal by reading fairy tales instead of studying her lessons and her highly imaginative mind received as facts the delightful stories which she read.

This the sweetest of all moving-picture attractions will be shown at The Queen tomorrow afternoon and night, commencing at 2 p. m.

REV. STOREY RETURNS.

Rev. Charlton H. Storey, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, returned this afternoon from LaGrange, where he had been the past ten days conducting a revival meeting. Rev. Storey reports a most successful meeting and a very pleasant ten days' stay in that city. There were 18 additions to the local church during the meeting by profession of faith and a general revival among the members of the church.

WIXON NEWS.

Well, cotton is about all out and sold. However, there is a light top crop, the most of which is still in the field. Practically all the corn has been gathered and most people report a good yield.

Scads of sweet potatoes are being stored for better prices and home use. Several farmers in this community have fine patches of sugar cane and we all have some good bacon sprouts, so you see, Mr. Editor, we'll have "taters," molasses, pork and cornbread and a few turnip greens at the noon hour.

Mrs. C. L. Buckhaults is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Haygood, at Benchley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. White, Jr., visited Mrs. W. R. Ball at Tabor Saturday night and Sunday.

The Wixon school is progressing nicely with Miss Edna Harris as teacher.

B. G. Bond and family of Prospect visited in this community Sunday.

Among the Bryan visitors Saturday were J. H. White, Sr., Prof. J. M. Moore, W. A. King, J. H. White, Jr., E. J. Beard and Cleave Buckhaults.
